Chaos Project has a new webhost. After many troubles and problems the administrator of Chaos Project, Blizzard, decided to move the website to another host. After a long time of bearing the rude and unprofessional staff of 000Webhost and long search and research, he has decided that U2 Web is most suited to meet the requirements the Chaos Project community poses. Blizzard was most impressed by the way U2 Web handles bad reviews; they would answer politely, explain what the problem was and wish the reviewer the best of luck for the future.
